FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Management's Responsibility

To the Board of Directors of Operation Eyesight Canada Inc.:

Management is responsible for the preparation and presentation of the accompanying financial statements, including responsibility for significant accounting judgments and estimates in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations and ensuring that all information in the annual report is consistent with the statements. This responsibility includes selecting appropriate accounting principles and methods, and making decisions affecting the measurement of transactions in which objective judgment is required.

In discharging its responsibilities for the integrity and fairness of the financial statements, management designs and maintains the necessary accounting systems and related internal controls to provide reasonable assurance that transactions are authorized, assets are safeguarded and financial records are properly maintained to provide reliable information for the preparation of financial statements.

The Board of Directors and Audit Committee are composed entirely of Directors who are neither management nor employees of the Organization. The Board is responsible for overseeing management in the performance of its financial reporting responsibilities, and for approving the financial information included in the annual report. The Board fulfils these responsibilities by reviewing the financial information prepared by management and discussing relevant matters with management and external auditors. The Board is also responsible for recommending the appointment of the Organization's external auditors.

MNP LLP is appointed by the directors to audit the financial statements and report directly to them; their report follows. The external auditors have full and free access to, and meet periodically and separately with, both the Board and management to discuss their audit findings.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors of Operation Eyesight Canada Inc.:

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Operation Eyesight Canada Inc. (the "Organization"), which comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2019, and the statements of operations and changes in fund balances and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Organization as at December 31, 2019, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Organization in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Organization or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Organization's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Organization to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

NOTE 1 - PURPOSE OF ORGANIZATION

The mission of Operation Eyesight Canada Inc. (the "Organization") is to provide international leadership and encouragement in the development and funding of self-sustaining blindness prevention and sight restoration programs for those people in greatest need. The Organization is incorporated under the Canada Corporations Act as a not-for-profit organization. The Organization is a registered charity under the Income Tax Act, and therefore is not subject to income tax.

NOTE 2 - SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Organization's accounting and reporting policies conform to Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations and include the following:

Consolidation

These financial statements are prepared on a non-consolidated basis and do not include the assets, liabilities, net assets and results of operations of its related entities: Operation Eyesight Universal USA, Operation Eyesight UK, Operation Eyesight India, Operation Eyesight Kenya, Operation Eyesight Ghana, and Operation Eyesight Zambia. The summarized financial statements of these related organizations and the details of the significant inter-organization transactions are disclosed in Note 7.

Fund Accounting

The Organization follows the restricted fund method of accounting for contributions. The Organization maintains the following funds:

The Unrestricted Fund includes the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses related to the Fund Development, Administration and International programs that are funded by unrestricted contributions.

The Restricted Fund includes donor contributions and government funds restricted for specific international programs and projects, and, where applicable, administration and fundraising costs. Endowment contributions are included in the restricted fund.

The Capital Asset Fund reports the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses related to the Organization's capital assets.

Revenue recognition

Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue in the Unrestricted Fund in the year received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

Restricted contributions related to specific international programs and projects are recognized as revenue in the Restricted Fund in the year received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

Unrestricted investment income is recognized as revenue in the Unrestricted Fund. Restricted investment income is recognized as revenue in the fund in which it is earned. Investment income earned on endowment funds is reported in the restricted fund in accordance with the donors' specific instructions.

Short term investments

Investments are measured at fair value, with changes in the fair value recognized as either an unrealized gain or loss on investments in the fund to which they relate. Transaction costs are expensed as incurred.

Cash

Cash consists of cash in the Organization's bank accounts.

Capital assets

Capital assets are recorded at cost, net of accumulated amortization. Amortization is provided on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful lives as follows:

Computer equipment	3 years
Office equipment	5 years

Computer software is amortized 100% in the year of purchase.

Capital assets are tested for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amounts may not be fully recoverable. An impairment loss is recognized when and to the extent that the carrying value of an asset exceeds the total undiscounted cash flow expected from its use and external disposition.

Life insurance policies

Life insurance policies are recorded at their cash surrender value at December 31, 2019.

International programs

Program and construction expenditures are recorded as expenses when the funds are released directly to the international programs and construction projects. Program advances for a subsequent year are recorded as prepaid expenses and program costs. Outstanding program commitments for the current year are accrued as a liability at year end.

Foreign exchange

All amounts in the accompanying financial statements are stated in Canadian dollars. Foreign revenue and expenses are translated at the rates of exchange in effect on the dates of the related transactions and foreign assets and liabilities are translated at the year end rates of exchange.

Donations in-kind

Volunteers contribute significant time every year assisting the Organization. Because of the difficulty of determining the fair value of volunteer services, contributed services related to volunteer activities are not recognized in the financial statements. Donated goods and services are recorded as both a revenue and an expense when the fair market value is reasonably determinable and when they otherwise would normally be purchased and paid for by the Organization.

Financial instruments

The Organization recognizes its financial instruments when the Organization becomes party to the contractual provisions of the financial instrument. All financial instruments are initially recorded at their fair value, including financial assets and liabilities originated and issued in related party transactions.

At initial recognition, the Organization may irrevocably elect to subsequently measure any financial instrument at fair value. The Organization has not made such an election during the year.

The Organization subsequently measures its short term investments at fair value. Fair value is determined by published price quotations. All other financial assets and liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost.

Transaction costs and financing fees directly attributable to the origination, acquisition, issuance or assumption of financial instruments subsequently measured at fair value are immediately recognized in earnings. Conversely, transaction cost and financing fees are added to the carrying amount for those financial instruments subsequently measured at amortized cost or cost.

Financial asset impairment

The Organization assesses impairment of all its financial assets measured at cost or amortized cost. When there is an indication of impairment, the Company determines whether it has resulted in a significant adverse change in the expected timing or amount of future cash flows during the year. If so, the Organization reduces the carrying amount of any impaired financial assets to the highest of: the present value of cash flows expected to be generated by holding the assets; the amount that could be realized by selling the assets; and the amount expected to be realized by exercising any rights to collateral held against those assets. Any impairment, which is not considered temporary, is included in the current year excess (deficiency) of revenue and expenses.

The Organization reverses impairment losses on financial assets when there is a decrease in impairment and the decrease can be objectively related to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognized. The amount of the reversal is recognized in the excess (deficiency) of revenue and expenses in the year the reversal occurs.

Income taxes

The Organization is registered as a charitable organization under the Income Tax Act ("the Act") and as such is exempt from income taxes and is able to issue donation receipts for income tax purposes. In order to maintain its status as a registered charity under the Act, the Organization must meet certain requirements within the Act. In the opinion of management, these requirements have been met.

Allocation of expenses

The nature of the Organization's operations requires that its costs are largely influenced by the deployment of its staff. In turn, the costs of supporting international programs and fundraising are directly related to the number of people working in each of those areas.

The Organization has allocated administrative costs and fundraising (Communication and Fund Development), to International programs on the basis of the time they expended on the related activities.

Use of accounting estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the related amounts of revenue and expenses for the reporting period. Actual results can differ from those estimates.

The Organization is exposed to foreign currency risk due to the transactions it has with foreign affiliates. The risk is recognized and mitigated.

NOTE 14 - SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Subsequent to year-end, there was a global outbreak of COVID-19 (coronavirus), which has had a significant impact on businesses through the restrictions put in place by international and the Canadian, provincial and municipal governments regarding travel, business operations and isolation/quarantine orders. At this time, it is unknown the extent of the impact the COVID-19 outbreak may have on the Organization as this will depend on future developments that are highly uncertain and that cannot be predicted with confidence. These uncertainties arise from the inability to predict the ultimate geographic spread of the disease, and the duration of the outbreak, including the duration of travel restrictions, business closures or disruptions, and quarantine/isolation measures that are currently, or may be put, in place by Canada and other countries to fight the virus.

Subsequent to year-end, the Organization made a commitment to provide between $50,000 and $100,000 of funding to each of its six related entities to a maximum of $600,000.
